

As a small charity we rely heavily on donations to help us run our vital services – especially our advice & casework services. Although these are the hardest to fund, they are very often the most important for our vulnerable service users.

Support Voices in Exile

This leaflet gives examples of what it costs us to provide some of the essential elements of our work. However much or little you can afford to give, your help will directly benefit our clients.

If you would like to donate by card payment, cheque or standing order, please contact us at administrator@voicesinexile.org and we will be very happy to help!

Voices in Exile

Help support our vital work supporting refugees, asylum seekers and vulnerable migrants in and beyond Brighton & Hove.

What your money can buy...

£5 – The cost for a client to travel to and from our office to attend a casework appointment, one of our advice drop-in sessions, or our weekly food bank.

£10 – The cost of reimbursing travel and lunch costs for a volunteer to work with us for a day.

£19.20 – The cost to enrol biometric information so that a client can apply for a biometric residence permit.

£20 – The salary cost per hour of a qualified Level 2 Caseworker.

£25 – The value of a bag of groceries, dry food and toiletries from our weekly food bank.

£55 – The cost of a qualified community interpreter for 1 hour, including travel.

£49 – The cost of a child refugee travel document

£75 – The cost of an adult refugee travel document.

£120 – The cost of preparing and submitting an application for a Home Office travel document, so that someone who has been granted leave to remain in the UK can finally travel to visit their family in another.

£350 – The cost of preparing and submitting an application to challenge the condition of No Recourse to Public Funds imposed on someone's limited leave to remain – for example, the sole carer of a British child – so that s/he can claim the top-up benefits that would be available to any British mum on a low-waged, zero-hour contract.

£850 – The cost of the time needed by a qualified caseworker to prepare and submit a straightforward application within the Immigration Rules – for example, an extension of limited leave to remain where there have been no changes in circumstances.

£1000 – The cost of the time needed by a qualified caseworker to prepare and submit an application for asylum or a complex human rights application, for example on the basis of an established private or family life in the UK (excluding the cost of the application fee itself)

£1012 – The cost of registering a child as a British citizen.
